

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Please replace the paragraph at page 1, lines 27-29, with the following rewritten paragraph:

-- This object is achieved by a process for the generation of cells producing pancreatic hormone, comprising a cultivation and differentiation of stem cells obtained from differentiated exocrine glandular tissue of an organism ~~having the features of Claim 1, a cell having the features of Claim 22~~ an isolated cell producing pancreatic hormone, the cell having been generated from a stem cell that was isolated from differentiated exocrine glandular tissue of an organism and a ~~cell composition~~ cellular composition containing a plurality of cells producing pancreatic hormone, the cell having been generated from a stem cell that was isolated from differentiated exocrine glandular tissue of an organism, wherein the cell is a human cell ~~having the features of Claim 24.~~ Advantageous embodiments and applications are derived from the dependent claims. --.